

Dear Abbie:

This is your past self right now I am writing this letter to you to tell you the problems right now like...windmills have they found a solution to the problem about birds and bats hitting it if not maybe you should. Number 2. climate change have things gotten better about it if so how because right now it is a big deal right now well not a huge deal but DEFINITELY a problem thou, so I hope it's getting better whatever year you are right now because I'm in 2021 and covid is bad and i'm in a video call right now while i'm making this letter. Number 3 using fossil fuels to make electricity it's a problem because it makes greenhouse gases which are bad for the environment. I hope things are better in whatever year you are and have a good rest of your life

From your past self abbie
