

At school when we were not using the laptops or smartboard, we got to play word and math games and it was really fun. I think most people noticed that we really do not need the laptops at school. I know I noticed that. We got to play apples to apples and Balderdash.