

Dear: ME

In thirty years, I just wonder what life will be like, specifically what the Earth will be like.

I really want to know if there will be more solar powered electricity? I love that idea because then there is WAY less pollution and it can store a lot of energy.

Another thing is technology. Where will technology be in 2050? I doubt that there will be flying cars because people have been predicted that there would be flying cars in 2020, but wrong! We just got COVID.

I also hope that there is still green in cities and towns, and that Churchill still has its wild places because it's important for us here to still have polar bears so that tourists can see them.

I want to remind myself to always stand up for the Earth and protest for less plastic use, and to ALWAYS remember that; The Earth doesn't need us to live, but we need it.
